TEA versus BOVRIL. BEEF

BEEF TEA.

"Were it possible to furnish the market; at a reasonable price, with a preparation of meat combining in itself the albuminous, together with the extractive principles, such a preparation would have to be preferred to extractum carnis, for it would contain all the nutritive constituents of meat. I have in the residue; they are most nutritive, and this is certainly a great disadvantage.

> RARON LIEBIG. Discoverer of Liebig's Extract, in The Lancet, Nov. 11, 1865.

BOVRIL

Was invented to realise Baron von Liebig's desire for a meat food that would contain not only the stimulating properties of flesh -as all Meat Extracts and Beef Teas dobut also the nourishing properties of flesh, which Meat Extracts and Beef Teas do not before stated that in preparing the Entracti This has been accomplished by first taking of Meat the albuminous principles remains the extractive principles by the Liebig process (which is akin to home-made beef tea) and then adding albumen and fibrine, procured from the flesh of other oxen roasted and-finely ground to powder; the combination is Bovil.

Everybody will be pleased with the announcement appearing in another column to the effect that a military band will play on the Parade Ground once a week Hongkong has far too few amusements and recreations, and the band nights ought to grow exceedingly popular. We trust that the public will show their appreciation of the courtesy of the Military Authorities by turning up in force on Wednesday evening and that these weekly promenade concerts, if we may be allowed to so call them, will become one of the striking and most pleasing features of Hongkong life.

SIBERIAN MAMMOTH :-- Dr. Herz, the zoologist, has gone to superintend the excavation of the mammoth found in the district of Kolymsk on 25 Oct The discovery is of great scientific interestr. At present the left fore-leg and left hind-leg have been dug out. Th work of excavation cannot be completed in les than a fortnight. There is ice beneath the stratum in which the mammoth's body lies.

HORSE SHOES ARE SUPPOSED TO BE LUCKY, though the instance narrated in following story must surely be the exception that proves the rule;-A man picked up a recognised custom, threw it over his left shoulder. So far so good; but the missile hit another man in the eye, blinding him for life; the man fell through a plate-glass window valued at £20; a piece of the glass struck child and so frightened it that it fell under the wheels of a passing bus and was run over; and the screams of the child made the horses in the horseshoe went away mournfully, meditaview of the claim for consequential damages that he anticipates.

SUNFLOWERS FOR EGYPT :- It is stated that the sunflower is to be extensively cultivated in Egypt. Experiments recently made by German chemists show that the seeds are convertible to many uses, and, in addition to their value in the manufacture of soap and dye, possess an oil of great illuminating power.

SCOTCH CONCERT AT THE CITY HALL.

Inaddition to being the 25th of January, Saturday was the birthday of no less a personage than Bobbie Burns. The event may not have been notified in the calendar and many may have entirely overlooked the fact. Nevertheless no one will dispute that it was the 142nd anniversary of the birth 'of Scotland's great lyric poet. Further proof was forthcoming from the members of the local St. Andrew's Society for it was not likely they were going to let pass the occasion without some recognition, and they accordingly arranged that a concert should be held in the City Hall. A good programme, which with one exception, con fore nine o'clock. Among those present as the guests of the President of the Society, the Hon. Co.'s new steamer, is at her mourings prepara- | Sir W. J. Gascoigne, K.C.M.G., the Acting mier of New Zealand, Captain Labertouche. Capt. Cadogan, Captain Hewett, and Mrs. and Miss Hartigan. Others presents included the Hon. J. H. Stewart Lockhart, C.M.G., Colonial Secretary, and, in fact, most the principal residents in the Colony. Some, who should have known better, were evidently desirous of making themselves con spicuous for during the whole of the entertainment they annoyed those in the stalls by jabbering in an audible tone and forcing upon others their total ignorance of all matters relating to music. When such childlike behaviour is found in the first few seats it is certainly disgraceful and gives one the impression that free pass or two must have been issued.

But turning from the audience to the stage there is another complaint to be laid, and one which unfortunately seems to pervade many of the entertainments given in the Colony. We refer to one of the items in the second portion of the programme which might well have been omitted. Those who heard it will know to what we refer while the absentees have doubtless learned from others the one objectionable item of the entertainment. It was ten minutes after nine o'clock that the band of H.M.S. Endymion opened the concert with Hartmann's "Fair Maid of Perth." They played several times during the evening and lent much additional interest to the occasion. A male voice choir, comprising Messrs. Ardron, Armstrong, Auld, Coster, Emmett, Goldring, Grimble, Hay, Keenan, H. A. Lammert, Mackenzie, Marshall, Mirow, Terrill and Trefusis contributed four part selection and an encore was of course almost unconscious when found and had inevitable. The Hon. H. W. F. Mrs. Gordon was also an artist deserving of every. praise, for her charming voice, notable in strength, sweetness and flexibility could not fail to impress her audience. She was encored for both her selections and kindly favoured with further renderings. As a celloist Mr. F. Pelella is certainly a skilful musician and, though at times there was a slight laxity of tone, he won the confidence of all. One word has to be added concerning Mr. A. G. Ward's conducting. It was marked by energy, intelligence, and a sense of responsibility. He also accompanied several of the performers and was ably assisted by Mr. George Grimble.

BLAZE AT WEST POINT. REMEN'S NARROW ESCAPE: ONE INJURED.

Shortly after ten o'clock last evening the ringing of the fire bells in Queen's Road led crowds of people to assembled outside of the Fire Station where a steam engine was puffing thick jets of red sparks into the air. No one seemed to know where the fire had broken out and at length it became apparent that the alarm was false. Scarcely had the firemen got home when the bells again sounded notifying that an outbreak had occurred in No. 3 District. And this time there was no doubt about it for a lurid glow lit up the sky above West Point, P., C. 57 was quickly at the scene of the fire, which he found had occurred at No. 142, Second street and, though the flames were leaping from the windows, he. ascended to the upper storeys of the house and with great difficutly got the inhabitants out into the street. The flames spread rapidly finding pleffly of fuel in the rattans with which the premises were stored, and as there was a good stiff breeze blowing the next house was soon burning brightly. The fire brigade turned up with commendable promptitude, but owning to many lengths of hose having to be used in getting water from the Harbour it was some time before they were able to throw any water. on the burning buildings. About an hour and a half after the outbreak the fire at No. 142 had been got under the firemen were quickly on the top floors directing water on the flames in the next house. A long ladder was erected and P. C. Copeland and a Chinese fireman got to work with the hose on the verandah to the second storey. The balcony had practically been burned through and scarcely had they started when there came a crash and a shout and, heavy iron work and charred timber fell to the ground. The firemen, working beneath, had just time to get clear and when the dust and smoke had blown away sought for their comrades who had been working above. Copeland called out to those below to put the ladder nearer him, and upon looking up he was seen hanging on to a railing at the top storey. Unfortunately the ladder was fouled by iron brackets and the songs, arranged by Mr. A. G. Ward, which if hose had shifted very close to him. Assistant they did not merit any great pretentions for | Engineer Gourlay hastened up the ladder and such a capable choir, were well sung and guiding his feet on the rungs, with difficulty heartily received. Mrs. Mudie made her first managed to get him safely from the railing appearance before the publice for some con- and so on to the ground. ### HUMPHREYS ESTATE AND FINANCE COMPANY, LTD.

OBJECTING, SHAREHOLDERS.

The sixteenth ordinary animal general meeting of the shareholders in the Dumphrey's Estate and Finance Company, Limited was held at'the Registered offi es of the Company at anon to-day for the purpose of receiving the report of the Directors together with a statement of accounts for the past year. There were present Mr. Henry (impphreys (in the Chair), Massrs, H. W. Made, C. S. Sharp, J. S. Van Buren, and Ho Tung (directors), Capt. Rowin, Capt. W. E. Clark, Messre, J. A. Jupp, E. H. ment. The Report and accounts have already appe ared in these columns.

The hairman kaid: Gentlemen, I will with your promission tide, the Report and Accounts as weath. At our dast meeting the ch airman was able to congratabase you on the

You | will notice that Dock shares no longer appear first to retain these shares as an investment, but the appreciation was so great and so rapid that your General Managers and Directo's did ant feel justified in risking a reattion. The profits realized on your Dock holdens amounta to no less a som three $6.957.65 which is inchiefed (inder the heading of "Profit on Salas of Properly and Investments" in the accounts no y before you? If any shareholder line any questions to ask I shall be pleased to answer for the meeting was a very good one-the oc the thought, the Company had ever shown hat they could hrrive at such a state you get more dividend the shares would have a of affairs. He begged leave to compare it a greater comfidence at that market. with a company working on the same the s and one that was generally considered in the market ds a gill-edged stock, (1) a very big capital they garred a little over 13 50 per cent, while in their own company they na I made a handsome profit f 24.25 per cent. | that-In that company the reserve funds amounted to one-fifth as against their own reserve, fund of over one-quarter of the whole amounts With those figures, the Company to which he referred was able to declare a dividend of twelve per cent per annum, while the Humphrey's Estate and Finance Company had not been able to declare more than ten per 100 per cent premium and the Humphrey's Estate at only 30 per cent. When the position of their Company was not so good and the Directors declared a small dividend the shareholders kept quiet, but now that the report was a very healthy one naturally he thought the Directors would have had some consideration for the shareholders and granted them a better dividend. By so doing no doubt the confidence of the public would be much more increased. He would mopose "That, the Directors shall reconsider their decision and grant $125,000 to be declared as a dividend, making 121 per cent, per annum on the twelve months up to the 31st December 1901; that $75,000 be carried to the Ford Reserve fund, $15,000 to Equalization of Dividend Fund, and $18,539.19 be carried forward." Unless the Directors could give a very substantial reason for not adopting the proposal he would ask that a vote be taken upon it.

Mr. A. R. Ezekiel :- I beg to second that amendment if you wish. Mr. Musso Peralta-thought it would be better, before adopting the report and accounts, to deal with the question of dividend, unless, of course, by any rules of the association he was out of order. The Chairman :- I may say that the question of dividend received very careful consideration at the hands of your directors. Your directors could not see that the Company could pay more than to per cent in future years without, encroaching on the Equalization of Dividend Fund. It impossible to expect, as I pointed out in the speech I have just made, that we can make these extraordinary profits every year, and, as far as I can see, this years business with

The Chairman :- 1 have just been looking into the Articles of Association, and clause; 9) or the articles says " not larger dividend shall be declared than is recommended by the Directors, but the Company in general meeting may declare a smaller dividend."

Mr. Musso Peralta said it was very strange that Articles of Association could be drawn up in that way, it was very strange if the Directors could decide a certain sum and the shareac ounce there presented showing a record howers could get up and declare a smaller year. It affords your to herd a tagers and amount. Mr. alusto Peralta: -It is very one sided, but of course if the Articles of Association say so naturally I cannot go beyond that. I have Thy adding largely to Reserve Funds and I feel not asked the directors to give more, bu sunfary that they should breconsider their decision. Of course they may not decide in our layou, but I have simply asked that they should reconsider it. We are not asking for more than $25,000 and I think the Company could very leasily give that amount.

are many shareholders who have the interest of the company at heart.

Mr. Ferguson:-I think the Chairman said in his statement, there was a fair prospect of doing well in the future. I don't see that after such a remark is thrown out there should be any prospect of the dividend being decreased on account of what he said. There is a good prospect of the Company's property paying well in fature. The remarks made by Mr. Musso Peralta are very reasonable, and I think the shareholders have a fight to a little more consideration at the present time.

.The Charman :- I may tell you gentlemen that the General Managers and the directors are very large shareholders; you possibly may not know that, but it is so, and I think that what they have decided is in the best interests of the Company. If you wish me to put the amendment to the meeting I will do so.

Mr. Musso Feralia :-- Yes, Mr. Chairman, You may take what time you want to reconsider your decision." The Chairman,-You know what that phyolves; it envolves a delay in the payment of dividends. Mr. Musso Peralta :- You can send out the dividends you have made and, if the decision is favourable you can make a supplementary dividend to the shareholders. I have the interests of the Company at heart and don't want you to suppose I am the leader of any opposition

The amendment was then put to the meeting when there voted eight for and eight against it. The Chairman: -The Chairman has a casting vote which I put in against the motion. Asa matter of fact if I had a ballo I think you

Mr. Jupp proposed, and Mr. Sharp seconded, that Messrs. F. Henderson and W. H. Gaskel he re-elected auditors, and the motion was carried.

The Chairman :- That is all the business, gentlemen. The dividend warrants will be ready to-morrow morning at ten o'clock. Thank you for your attendance.

SUICIDE AT THE HONGKONG HOTEL.

'An engineer in the Royal Navy, named Frank D. Thompson, was courtmartialled on . M. S. Tullot last Saturday, morning for intemperance, and as it was not his first offense he was sentenced to be dismissed his ship-H. M. S. Tamar-and to lose three years seniority. This seems to have preyed so much upon his mind that he took his life by shooting himself twelve hours afterwards.

It appears that Thompson went to the Hongkong Hotel on Saturday evening and engaged a room on the third floor. He went upstairs and nothing further was heard, of him us til about half past seven, when one of the "boys' went to his room and found the deceased lying on the floor with a bullet wound in the head. He at once called the manager, who proceeded to the room where he saw Thomson lying on the floor quite dead, with a large bullet wound in his right temple. By his body was a six chambered revolver with five loaded carrridges in it, each of which had had the bullet cut off at the top. The police were at once communicated with and on their arrival they, had the body removed to the Government Mortuary from whence it was taken to Wanchai and laid in the Naval Mortuary.

The Club kicked off, and right from the jump it was at once seen that the game was going to be all one way. E. The Club played up well and, liaving very little effective resistance to ed himself at one time or another. Chad. Kew was in the Club goal and did not have enough Mr. Ho Tung :- I want the shareholders to to do to keep himself warm, and looked as if a scalskin lined overcoat would have been of most use to him.

On resuming E. Co. made a determined effort and carried the ball right down into the Club's quarter, but Kew put it away neatly and it was almost at once passed along and eventually Vonder Pfordten scored the second goal. The soldiers' team at this juncture seemed all at sea, their passing was wild and no attempt at combination was made, on the other hand the Club were working together and Lowe was playing a great game and narrowly missed a point, but Hartshore saved and Preedy got in a rather pretty bit of work, but nothing eventuated. Howard and Danby were warming up to their work and Jenkins was right on the ball all the time. The first half concluded, the scores being H.K.F.C.

Lowe was playing brilliantly and Russell, whenever it came his way, put in one of his long punts just as certainly as if he had a place kick. The game henceforth was more or less too one sided to be of paramount interest. The ball was continuously in the R.W.F.'s quarters and goal succeeded goal until the score stood at 6 goals (H.K.F.C.) to nil. (R.W.F. E. Co.) For E. Co. Hartshore and Preedy singled themselves out as two of the best, and for the Club, Russell, Lowe, and Howard played up to their best form, while Jenkins also did a lot of bullocking and was on the leather all the time

GIRAULT : TOYS ! TOYS ! Comicali-Ur. ties of all Sorts, PROTECTED RUB. NEW MOTOR CAR FOR HONGKGNG.

During the last few |days one of the latest patterns of automobiles has been seen running about the City and through the courtesy of Mr. Levy, of Messrs. Levy Hermanos, the agents for the East for these machines, we had the pleasure of a ride to Bay View and back. We can quite understand, after one ride, how motoring has become so popular in Europe, as the sensation of being whisked through the air is most exhilirating and the pleasure is added to by the feeling of perfect safety, owing to the motive power being under such perfect control. As a test the car was sent, along for a shortdistance at the rate of sixteen miles an hour and stopped, without the slightest jerk, in seven feet. When travelling slowly it can be pulled up in a foot in case there happened to be some sudden obstruction appear in front. No make of car would be any use in Hongkong if it were not a sure hill climber. To thoroughly test the capability of the machine it was put at the hilly road leading from Queen's Road to Bowen Road and, with three people riding, surmounted the 20% grade with, apparently, as little effort as if travelling on the level. Being on the free wheel pattern it can be stopped as easily while running down a steep hill as when going up.

The machinery develops 4 h.p. and can be driven by gasolene, benzine, alcohol or spirits of wine, and all the weight 'is so placed that, the centre of gravity being low, no danger of toppling over while turning a corner is possible. Many think that the noise, vibration and smell render a journey more of an infliction than a pleasure. But we can assure them such is not the case. While riding no noise is heard and the perfect springs and pneumatic tyres make the roughest roads good travelling.

The present car has been sold to one of our most prominent Hongkong residents, and orders for others can be booked through Messrs. Levy Hermanos, of Queen's Road. IM. Picard, from Paris, an expert motorist and a member of the Touring Club, has been for the last [fortnight giving lessons in driving, and the arrangements are so simple that several gentlemen are quite competent to go about among the thickest traffic already. We predict that a number of these cars will soon be running about Hongkong, and nothing could be more pleasantithan taking the evening air after a hot summer day in one of these luxurious automobiles.

THE HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANK TRIAL SEQUEL.

ALL THE ACCUSED ACQUITTED.

On the 15th inst. at Singapore the case for the prosecution in the above trial came to an end, and that of the defence was begun, the remainder of the day being occupied by the hearing of evidence on oath from each of the accused, in turn, one and all denying the story of ill-treatment alleged by the prosecution.

The next morning, further; evidence for the defence was taken. After Mr. Cuscaden, Inspector General of Police, had given evidence, the foreman of the jury, Mr. Bullen, intimated ed within the enclosure, passing in at the to His Lordship, on behalf of the other jurors and himself, that they had formed an opinion

JUR LONDON LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) LONDON, December 26th.

Christmus has been celebrated this year with a gaiety to which England has been unaccustomed for two years past, and that for two reasons. In the first place the long period of Court mourning is drawing to a close, and the natural reaction is already beginning to make itself felt, and secondly, respite' somewhat longer recent lists of casualties, the war news his for many weeks past been of a cheerful nature, presaging an early close to hostilities, Men are once again looking forward with courage and confidence, and discussing what will take place with regard to their commercial interests " after the war.".

As for the festival itself—There was terrible disappointment among all the young people home from school, when, after a week of hard frost, and cold sunshine, the weather broke up on the night of the 23rd. Christmas Eve was a perfect deluge, and though it cleared somewhat yesterday, only a very contented person could have described the atmospheric conditions as agreeable. 'The Churches were however very full at all, services on the forenoon, At St. Paul's, where the singing was somewhat above even the fine level which has for some years obtained in that Cathedral, Canon Newbolt, presched on behalf of the Dean, who was indisposed, to a congrepation which included those distinguished people who have not left London to spend an old fashioned Christmas in the country. Seats in the Chancel were reserved for the Duke of Connaught and his family; the other royalties attending the Chapel Royal, with the exception of the Queen, who is still confined to the house. At Westminster numbers of persons had to be turned away from the doors at the ten o'clock service, when Dean Bradley preached. The old Abbey is of course, always a centre of attraction to Londoners in times of national emotion, and at the great Church festivals, but just at this time it also boasts one of the most beautiful boy voices which has ever di-tinguished the excellent choir. For nearly a year the trable soloist has augmented the ordinary congregation of worshippers by quite a goodly com any of music-lovers, who go to hear him sing. I well remember the first time I listened to him. It was the Sunday following Queen Victoria's death; and a great black-robed congregation, filling every aisle and corner of the draped Cathedral sobbed openly and unrestrainedly, as the sadly tender notes of the anthem did died away into silence-"So He giveth His beloved sleep." Like Chopin's funeral march, to all those who were of that congregation, Handel's anthem is for ever inseparably connected with the Queen whose favourite funeral music it was. But this is a digression. There was nothing of sorrow in yesterday's service. Following the usual custom a Christmas hymn in which the whole congregation joined, 'took, the place of the anthem, and what was lost of ornateness, was gained in spontanicty.

The Bishop of Rochester preaching at St. Saviour's Southwark, appears to have delivered | around the delights of Christmas, and indeed the finest Christmas sermon; but new Dr. Talbot is hard to beat when handling a lattach to the powers of various foolish old men favourite theme. . He is perhaps the most and women; to foreigh the future by their selfeloquent and persuasive speaker among the assumed acquaintance with astronomy. No Bishops although undoubtedly the Bishop of | doubt some peop'e buy the ridiculous little London turn him very close.

served at all the large metropolitan institutions. | and blower classes, read the forecasts for the medical and nursing staff and their friends, and presents distributed to patients, while Christmas fare was, provided for all whose health allowed them to partake of it. . The gifts for the children's hospitals were largely contributed by newspaper proprietors. Truth and Little Folks being as usual to the front in this good work.

For the first time, there is, this year, a distinct falling off in the number of Christmas cards sent by private people to their friends. The custom has seemed for some seasons past to be entirely losing its true, or at least its original character, and developing into something as formal and meaningless as the exchange of visiting cards. As a natural consequence what was intended to be a mark of friendship and remembrance has become an intolerable social tax to people of limited means, and much occupation. This year many individuals boldly made a stand, and determined to send only to those whom they really wished to remember at Christmas, and the result has been satisfactory, to every one but the card vendors. Another innovation this year was, what for lack of a better name, may be called the penny surprise box. Londoners having discovered the joy that which penny toys conferred upon small people and for matter on the big people too in the country, where they are, for the most part, unknown, sallied forth with baskets into the City and went the round of the street trays. A dozen of these cheap and curious toys packed carefully in a pretty box, and despatched to, country nurseries, aroused an excitement among the little occupants, which a more ordinary and expensive article would have been powerless to do. 'Cocks, that crow when a spring is jerked, a monkey on a bjcycle which one has to balance on a piece of spring held between two hands, an expanding wooden figure, which by moving a piece of wood-scissor fashion springer from a squat dwarf, into a two-headed giant, fighting fowls; motor cars that move along for a few yards when wound up but will not run at the end of a string; a charming figure which bows and removes his hat gracefully; kettles teasets, wash-tub and hanging-out pegs, and squeaking Japanese dolls, are but a few among the many delights which abound on Ludgate Hill, New Oxford Street, and Holborn. land Counties Drug Company, Lincoln, They are to be had elsewhere though, but England.

GIRAULT : NOVELTIES, BEAUTI-FUL DOLLS, PLEASING PAR-LOUR GAMES, CROQUET, &c., &c., at the west end the penny toys of the City become sixpenny articles, and are not in at all the same variety.

The expected change in winter fashions has not taken place, and the absurd and unsuitable long skirt continues to trail its inconvenient yards over the snowy, mud-incrusted street. At all times a foolish and uncleanly fashion for women who do not use carriages, the long skirt becomes an unmitigated nuisance at a season when the shops are crowded, when every one requires free hands for the conveyance of parcels, and when the weather renders it almost imperative the carry an umbrella and a must. It is however, extremely unlikely that the walking length dress will resume its modest sway before next summer, even if it is allowed to do so then. ·Coats are three-quarter length and heavily trimmed with fur; sable, ermine, minx and marmot prevailing. One peculiar feature, is the decree that whereas, as stated, ordinary jackets are long, the coat of a coat and sk recostume is invariably short. Sacs are still worn, but semi-fitting jackets predominate, while all-fur Etons and Russian coatees are of course tightly-fitted. Bright reds, 'pinks and intermediate shades are forecasted for the, at present, distant spring-and fruit trimmings for millinery will supersede the feeble remnant of feathers which the autocratic milliner has so far suffered to be retained on wide-brimmed; low hats. Even before Christmas this concession was grudging, and so to speak of necessity -it will shortly be withdrawn altogether.

The pantomimes this year gave promise of coming up to the average. Drury Lane has adopted the story of Blue Beard whereon to hang its scenic attractions, its ballets, and songs. The dancing is this season the great [57d] feature of what is always a gorgeous show. The " (an " set, which represents the dress of various periods and nationalities; and the "fern 'sets in which every dancer represents a fern, are the two most original, and effective figures which will delicht the eyes of the audience to night, "Gudiver's comes on at. the Avenue with George Grossmith Jun. as ananager, and is said to promise well, the chiefattraction being the acting of the children, who as Liliputions are unnusually numerous, and who appear to thoroughly enjoy their part in the proceedings. At the Hippodrome and other smaller theatres, Aladdin in some guise forms the central figure of the Pantomime, just as Alice in Wonderland was performed at two entertainments of the kind last year; Dick Whittington is billed for the Lyric and Hammersmith, so that lovers of Pantomime have a considerable variety to choose from for their Boxing-night entertainment.

The almanacs, the prophetic ones that is, are providing food for merriment, scepticism, or dismay, according to the temperament of the individual who scans their pages. It really is a somewhat remarkable fact that in these days of science, when the very babies in the nursery demand logical proof before they will accept the pretty Santa Claus stories which, with other tales and fables familiar to the childhood of fifteen years ago, wove a mystery around life generally; credence should still pamphlets for the sake, of ten minutes" The usual hospital celebrations were ob- amusement, but the great body of the middle Entertainments were given in the wards by the coming year with the belief that they are really and truly obtaining a glimpse into futurity. In proof whereof they will reel off, without hesitation, innumerable instances in which the vague words of the star prophet have actually "come true". Except that we may anticipate the end of the South African Warthe Zadkiels, Moores, Butlers, and others of the fraternity are for the most part prophets of evil. Great Britain is to be in peril of every kind, political, naval, commercial, and sanitary. Disease, insurrections, accidents, rumours of war, and the "shadow of national bereavement " are among the little events in store for, us during 1902. I have not 'yet been able to ascertain the explanation of the astrological imbecility which made it possible; last autumn, to foresee the Duke of York's measles while omitting to make mention of the sad loss which on the 22nd of January plunged the Empire into mourning. Stars are certainly original in their methods-or is it their interpreters. This is a Christmas problem which the reading of many horoscopes has left still undecided.
